

Tested USB storage device list for TF series recording function

YAMAHA Corporation

TF series consoles have a function to record 2-track audio data by using a USB storage device connected to the iPad port.

This function requires the following USB storage device specifications.

- The compliant file system format: FAT32
- Sector size: 512 bytes
 - USB storage devices with the capacity of over 2TB cannot be used for recording.
- Allocation unit size: more than or equal to 4096 bytes

For recording, we recommend using a high-speed device, such as a hard disk drive (HDD) or solid-state drive (SSD). USB flash memory devices and iOS devices can be used for playback.

Some USB storage devices may not work properly on the console.

To help users find a working USB storage device, Yamaha has provided a list of tested USB storage devices. However, please note the following points:

- The list is a result of a few basic tests, so please note that we assume no responsibility whatsoever for any damages resulting from the use of the USB storage devices listed in the “Devices that have been tested”.
- With respect to the USB storage devices listed in the “Devices that have been tested, there is a possibility that the specifications of the devices may be changed by the manufacturer and such changes may cause incompatibility.
- Please refer to each manufacturer for the specification of each USB storage device.
- The devices listed have passed Yamaha’s basic tests.
Test conditions are:
 - To be able to record for 75 minutes or longer without failure
- Information in this document is subject to change without notice.
